

So very far away,
but so easy to get to.

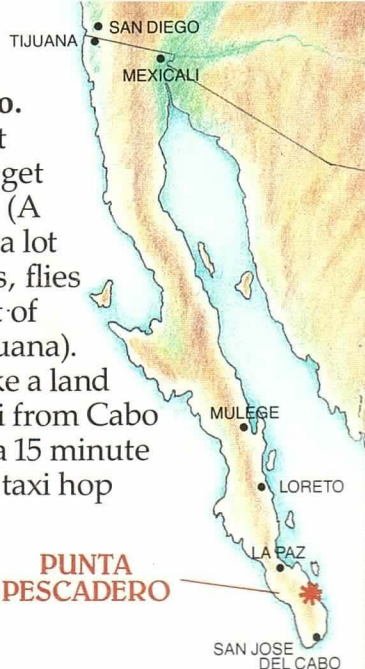

A short two hour flight
from Los Angeles will get you to La Paz or Cabo. (A little shorter flight, for a lot less, flies

out of Tijuana).
Take a land
taxi from Cabo
or a 15 minute
air taxi hop

from La Paz to Punta Pescadero's
air strip. The air strip is perfect for
private aircraft,
too—2,900 ft. long, hard pack, concrete run-up pad and tie downs. Unicom: 122.8.

Remote. Relaxing. Remarkable fishing and scenery. "Like the outer islands of Hawaii 50 years ago." Come and enjoy Punta Pescadero winter, summer, spring or fall. And when you come, bring your casual clothes. Expect wonderful weather, a fantastic time and a warm welcome.

In Spanish, Punta Pescadero means "Point of the Fishermen." The natives named it that long before the resort was built for one reason—right off this beautiful point you'll discover some of the best fishing in all of Baja. And, as any fisherman knows, the fishing in Baja is some of the best in the world.

The season is all year long. Pacific Marlin can be hooked in any of the twelve months. Fighting Rooster Fish, Wahoo and Sailfish can hit anytime. And our "local fish" that are always biting—delicious Dorado (Mahi Mahi), Cabrillo, Snapper, Sierra, Yellowtail and Pompano to name a few—fight hard and taste best.

Guests can rent small private skiffs, larger skiffs or one of our 6 fully-equipped deep sea cruisers. Friendly savvy crews will lead you to the best waters for the fishing experience of a lifetime.

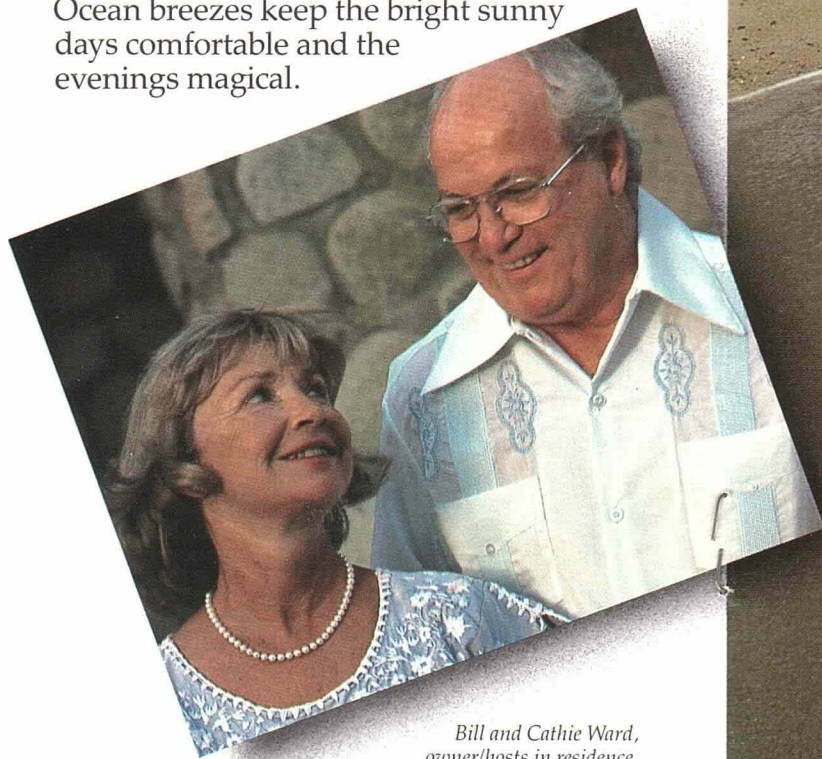

*Picture yourself
here—weighing in with the catch of the day!
This Marlin? Just a mere 405 lbs.!*

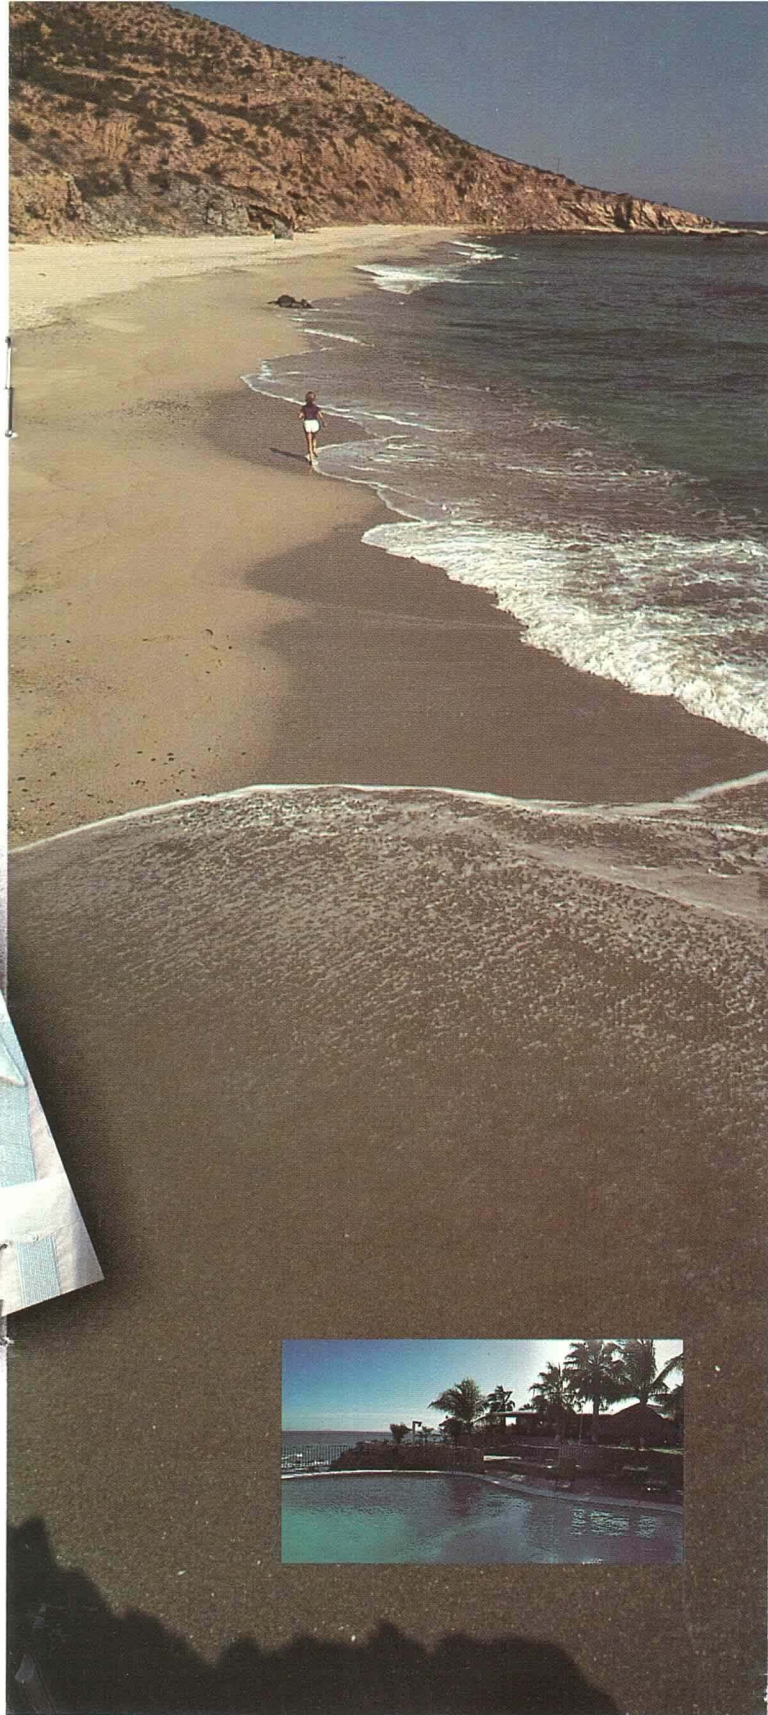

Though it's hard for our fishing fanatics to believe, many Punta Pescadero guests never set foot in a boat. No wonder... with deserted sand beaches stretching for miles either side of the point, a fresh water pool up by the cantina, it's a paradise for swimmers and sun lovers. Snorkeling near the rocks offshore reveals an underwater world teeming with life in vibrant colors. And be sure to bring your Scuba gear—the resort boasts the only compressor and air tanks between La Paz and Cabo.

For those who just want to get away and unwind... what better place than here. Ocean breezes keep the bright sunny days comfortable and the evenings magical.

No matter how beautiful the surroundings, a resort still has to be judged by its food, service and amenities. In these areas Punta Pescadero ranks "Best in Baja."

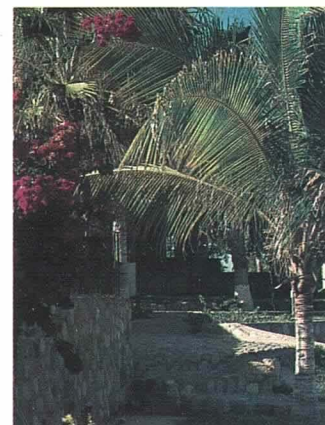

Enjoy hearty breakfasts of your choice with a different lunch and dinner served every day. The fish, of course, are fantastic. Mexican night—a feast!

Cocktails and hor d'oeuvres on the cantina's veranda overlooking the Sea of Cortez.

Every room has its private tile terrace with an ocean view. Every other room—a lovely stone fireplace. And since there are only 20 rooms, each comes with its own special charm. As one visitor remarked, "It's like being a house guest in a grand tropical estate."

Dinner under the stars is the rule not the exception.
